The road is now in successful operation between Bakersfield and Stockton, a distance of 235 miles, and its extension from Stockton to Point Richmond on San Francisco Bay, is now being built. Meanwhile connection is had with San Francisco by river boats from Stockton. Bakersfield, the southern terminus of the San Francisco and San Joaquin Valley road, is 160 miles from Mojave, the present western terminus of the Atchison. The Southern Pacific Railway connects these two points, and it is reported that a trackage contract is being arranged whereby the Atchison will be permitted to cific. If the Southern Pacific refuses to agree to this plan, it is occlared the Atchison will build a 26-mile line of its own between Mojave and Bakers-field, running its tracks through the Tejon Pass, westward of the Southern Pacific's line, between

"WIDE-OPEN" NEW-YORK.

WHAT RENEWED CROKER GOVERNMENT MEANS AND WHAT IS EXPECTED.

New-York is wide open once more. Tammany Hall has at last secured its "terrible revenge." Richard Croker and his assistants have set in full operation a system of Tammany government the order which assistants have set in full operation a system of Tammany government the order of the season of the struggling crowd below, and through the control of the place of selling the right to violate law, and through extortion and forced tribute. To make sure not only that the old system of exiction by Tammany is in full swing again, but to obtain a list of prices charged, I went, under proper auspices, to one who, because of his actual connection with the police force, knows whereof connection with the police force, knows whereof expenses and who if I were at liberty to give his name, would be recognized as an authority by view one who reads the Lewspapers. This man, so far as I know, does not share in any police plander—indeed, I was sent to him because of that belief—but he knows all about it. This is the last of prices that he furnished: Poolrooms, $500 last of prices that he furnished: Poolrooms, $500 last of the receipts; keeping open a dive, $10 to $50 a menth, according to the size of the receipts; keeping open a dive, $10 to $50 a menth, selling liquor from I to 5 a, m., the moderate charge of only $5 a menth.

FORTUNE IN THE POOLROOMS.

FORTUNE IN THE POOLROOMS

Turn now to another source of political revenue for Tammany—the existence of poolrooms. There are probably one hundred and fifty of them in the present city limits. A leader close to Mr. Croker is said to be the men who must be "seen" before a poolroom is opened. I do not use his name because I cannot prove any assertion against him. Alty one who wishes to know it can find out from the patrons of the places for the asking. It is necessary to go back a little to understand the explicance of the opening of the poolrooms. It is only a few years ago, when Tammany controlled legislation at Albany and abolished the lobby that Mr. Croker closed the poolrooms, with the exception of one or two small affairs. It was known as the control of the poolrooms were closed, and those who wished to bet had to go to the recetracks to do it. Curiously enough, Just about that time Remard Croker, who had been a poor man, began to take as interest in horse-racing. There are those who as that the closing of the poolrooms and the sevent of Mr. Croker in racing were mere coincidents, and that it all. That may be so. After a lime Mr. Croker transferred his racing interest in England, and the report is common that he has no interest—that is, personal interest—in this year the poolrooms were in full opera-in violation of law Strangely enough, the after Dr Parkhurst came home from Europe the went from one end of town on the West for part of that afternoon these hours, the President remained standing. Mrs. Mc-Kinley arrived at the Union League Club somewhat in advance of the President's party, escorted by Captain McWilliams, and during the passage of the procession she remained at an upstairs window of the clubbouse.

The President's party arrived at 1 o'clock. cheer went up from the crowd as President McKin-ley took his place on the reviewing stand. Among those on the President's stand were Secretary and Mrs. Gage, Secretary Bliss, Secretary and Miss Wilson, Postmaster-General Smith, Generals Miles, Shafter, Duffield and Corbin, Samuel E. Morse, Governor Mount of Indiana, Mayors Malster of Baltimore, Maybury of Detroit and Rose of Milwaukee, Admiral George Brown, the Chinese and Corean Ministers, Samuel Gompers, Judge Emory Speer, Assistant Secretary Meikeljohn, Quesada, General Greely and wife, Governor Barnes of Oklahoma, Clark Howell, Governor Scoffeld of Wisconsin, Archbishop Ireland, ex-Vice-President Adlai E. Stevenson and wife, Booker T. Washington, Dr. and Mrs. William R. Harper and Captain McCalla. In the reviewing stand proper there were with the President General Miles and General Shafter, both in full uniform: Governor Tanner, Mayor annual meeting in December, will ratify the pro- Harrison and Chairman Truax, of the Jubilee Con

BATTLE-TORN FLAGS HONORED.

At the head of the parade were the veterans of the Grand Army and of the Confederacy. Several of the posts carried old banners that waved in battle thirty-five years ago, and to each one of the tattered flags the President called the attention of these about him, and every head was bared until the flag had gone by. Behind the veterans of a former war came many civic societies.

After these came the 4th Regiment of infantry from Fort Sheridan, and then such of the fighting men of Chicago as have returned from the war. As the military division, commanded by Brigadier-General Fitzsimmons, of the Illinois National Guard, approached the reviewing stand, the en-thusiasm of the crowd grew. The ist Illinois which gave more lives in the war than any other Illinois body of enlisted men, stirred the people greatly. The 7th Infantry closed the parade After it had passed the President left the review ing stand, going into the clubhouse. Three cheers were given him as he left, and they came near to being the death signal for meny people. All day long the pressure of the crowd on the police lines at the ends of the square, in the centre of which the Union League Club house is situated, had been enormous. The police opened their lines just as the crowd in front of the cluphouse was cheering the President, and the crowd behind, thinking some new excitement was on, hastened from both ends of the square toward the centre.

Seeing the awful crush that must inevitably ensue, the police made desperate efforts to push the crowd back toward the ends of the square, but without avail. Detachments of soldiers and marines were hurried to their assistance, but in a short time they too were powerless. Finally, after desperate pushing, the marines managed to clear a small space, and forming in line they fixed bayonets and standing shoulder to shoulder, tried to hold back the crowd. The effort was futile, and, seeing that the bayonets must inevitably cause loss of kept at a level, the marines snatched them off, and then it was all over. Marines, soldiers and police men were mixed in the crowd, utterly helpless

Tighter and tighter the crowd became, and ther came from women and men cries of distress and calls for help. A large stand had been erected on the north side of the square, opposite the club-house. All along the edge of this stand hands

McKinley responded. He said:

It affords me gratification to meet the people of the city of Chicago and to participate with them in this patriotic celebration. Upon the suspension of hostifities in a foreign war, the first in our history for over half a century, we first in our history for over half a century, we have met in a spirit of peace, profoundly grateful for the glorious advancement already made, and carnestly wishing in the final termination to realize an equally glorious fulfilment.

With no feeling of exultation, but with profound thankfulness, we contemplate the events of the last five months. They have been too serious to admit of boasting or valingloridication. They have been so full of responsibilities, immediate and prospective, as to require the soberest judgment and to counsel the most conservative action. This is not the time to fire the imagination, but rather to discovere in calm reason the way to truth and justice and right, and when discovered to follow it with heleity and courage, without fear, hesitation or weakness.

The former is a powerful book, stronger and mere genuinely dramatic than any of its predecessors, "March Hares is a delightful semi-farcial production, fantastic, droll, and executed with a lightness of touch almost incredible in the author of "Seth's Brother's Wife" and "The Lawton Girl." firm position as a novelist.
